TOP TIPS FOR SUPPORTING SPEECH, LANGUAGE AND COMMUNICATION

Attention and Listening
- Gain your child’s attention before speaking to them by:
  - Saying their name.
  - Gently touching their hand or arm.
  - Getting down to their level.
- Reduce distractions as much as possible.
- Remind your child to use good listening skills (looking at the speaker, not interrupting, not fidgeting).
- Support what you say with visuals e.g. gesture, signing, now and next boards, reward charts.
- Praise your child for positive attention and listening behaviours.

Receptive (Understanding) Language
- Ensure you have your child’s full attention before speaking to them.
- Speak clearly and not too quickly.
- Use familiar vocabulary.
- Split up information or instructions into small chunks.
- Ask your child to repeat instructions back to you to ensure they have understood.
- Emphasise the key words when giving information (e.g. get the RED BOOK and the BLUE PEN).
- Give your child extra time to process what you have said before giving them more information.

Expressive (Use) Language
- Provide a good model by repeating what your child has said emphasising the correct word order and grammar. E.g. Child: “the boy falled off the roof” Parent: “yes the boy fell off the roof”.
- Extend your child’s sentences by adding something extra (e.g. for younger children: if the child says ‘there’s a bus’, you could say ‘there’s a big, red bus’. For older children: if the pupil says ‘the man is digging’, you could say ‘the man is digging and the woman is planting’).
- Give your child plenty of time to say what they mean.
- Provide opportunities for language use (e.g. retelling a story or describing a recent activity).

Social Communication
- Give positive instructions (e.g. ‘sit down’ rather than ‘stop jumping’).
- Avoid using non-literal language (e.g. ‘pull your socks up’) or try to explain what you mean.
- Talk about your child’s emotions (e.g. what makes them happy, frightened, sad).
- Teach your child play skills by modelling them.
- Model appropriate turn taking. Play turn taking games e.g. pop up pirate, simon says
- Develop reasoning skills by asking questions where your child has to consider “what if? / what might happen next? / why?”
- Use visuals, e.g. Now and Next boards, visual timetables and timers to support your child’s understanding and supporting changes in situations/places.
